Dear Parents/Caregivers,

THANK YOU to Mrs Chin and Mr Brandseth for holding down the fort in my absence last week. I appreciate the hard work and dedication my staff put in to their tasks.

Presently, we have a small number of students who choose to break the learning/respect rule.

This impacting on other students learning (through disrupting lesson and/or taking the teaching principal away from their class)

All students and staff have the right to work in a safe and productive environment.

It is imperative that parents and teachers work together; this will benefit your child/ren.

Please speak with your teacher or Mrs Booth to obtain the ‘full story/find out how you child/ren are progressing.

IT IS NOT A REFLECTION ON PARENTING, IT IS A SNAPSHOT OF WHERE AND HOW YOUR CHILD/REN ARE TRAVELLING AND HOW WE TOGETHER CAN SUPPORT YOUR CHILD/REN

We need to work together to understand the ‘why’/ the ‘triggers’ for this behaviour.

My staff and I want to work with parents to drill down to locate the ‘why’ and then we can work out the ‘how’ to support your child and our student.

PY – 2 News
Students are currently writing a retell of "Six White Boomers". This task will be completed over several lessons. Students have been working diligently to construct their interesting story. During Math time we have been learning more about 2D and 3D shapes and beginning graphing and data activities. Students always enjoy collecting data by asking their peers questions. We have been looking at community needs and wants during SOSE. The class has constructed a pretend community. There has been great conversation and learning as students discussed what should be included in the community and where these things should be located.

Our Sharing Time topic is "Poems and Rhymes". The prepared students have presented well to an interested audience. We look forward to hearing more poems and rhymes over the next week.

Pre-prep visit is scheduled for Friday. We look forward to our Pre-preps visiting and joining us for big lunch and play break this week.

Enjoy the remainder of Week 5 - this year is flying by!

In Science senior students have learnt about using electricity safely. The middle school students have learnt about the uses of insulators and conductors. Assessment tasks will begin this week. Year 7 are making a balloon powered vehicle, Year 6 will be making an electric circuit, Years 4 and 5 are making a periscope and Years 2 and 3 are designing a water bottle cooler.
