P-2 NEWS

Students are having fun as we continue to practise our songs and dances for the concert night on Friday, 30th of November. Most of the costume notes have been sent home and are being organised. Apologies that some of these letters were late. We've had a few students away so there have been a few question marks about our item but we have most of this sorted now. Most students have been trying their best and working well to learn their parts. We look forward to seeing family and friends come to watch the show!

In English we have been reading books written and illustrated by Anthony Browne. These books have been funny and provided opportunity for great discussions. Assessment continues for all students. This term has been a very big one so good food and rest is needed to keep our energy up!

Next week will be the last week of formal homework. Thanks to parents for supporting your child with home tasks throughout the year. Your child benefits from the time you spend to help them with these tasks. All home readers and library books need to be returned for the end of year stock take at the library. Please help your child remember to have their library and readers back at the end of next week. Students will be bringing home books we will no longer require at school over the coming weeks. It is strongly encouraged that you go through these books with your child to see what they have been doing and view their progress. Some of us were surprised to see the change in our writing and work when looking through these last week!

Volunteers are always appreciated in the final weeks as we clean and disinfect equipment. Thanks to the parents who have already seen me about coming to help with these tasks. Please see me if you are available to assist with the end of year clean up. Next week will probably also be the last week for most parent helper activities. Again a big thank you to the parents who have committed their time to our room this year. We are extremely lucky to have had such a great group of parent helpers!

Enjoy the rest of your week!

3 – 7 NEWS

Students in Years 3 to 7 have been busy again this week. Years 3 and 4 have been improving their language skills writing narratives. Those students in Years 4 to 7 have been listening to the story “Don’t Pat the Wombat” by Elizabeth Honey.

In mathematics this week, students in 4 to 7 have been learning about decimal numbers, percentages and budgeting. Years 3 & 4 have been consolidating their knowledge of multiplication and division.

All students have nearly finished their SOSE assignments. The Power Point presentations show the knowledge the students have of an Australian Primary Industries. While students in 5 to 7 have a greater understanding how Australia is governed.

Years 4 to 7 began their science constructions today. They have some really interesting ideas how to make a balloon powered vehicle move along the ground. Some of the mazes are detailed. Hopefully the light will go in one door and be reflected out the other. Years 3 and 4 will begin to design and make their water bottle cooler on Wednesday.

Play practice is progressing well. All actors are learning their words with many not having to use their script. This week we will be organising the props and costumes.

A BIG THANK YOU to all those parents who sent us egg cartons. They will be used to make pig noses and koala noses.

Dance Through the Seasons

Experience the four seasons though a stunning celebration of dance featuring some of the Fraser Coast’s most talented young dancers when the Cleone McRoberts Dance Studio presents its annual production "Dance through the Four Seasons" on 1 December at Maryborough’s Brolga Theatre.

Summer is filled with colour and fun against a soundtrack of 60s and 70s music. Autumn highlights the colours of the season through contemporary dance. Winter is set in a cold and dismal street scene with hip hop, street tap, ballet and contemporary while spring comes to life with beautiful ballet and energetic tap routines.

The concert is the finale to an outstanding year of achievements for the studio, with most of students receiving the highest possible grade of distinction in recent ballet exams with the Royal Academy of Dance. The concert is a showcase of the incredible talent, versatility, strong dance techniques and high performance qualities of the studio’s young dancers.

Tickets are available from the Brolga Theatre on 4122 6060 or www.brolgatheatre.org
